The campaign to Save the Boundary Waters is a national movement to protect the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness in northeastern Minnesota from dangerous sulfide-ore copper mining proposed in the Wilderness edge. Join National Campaign Chair, Becky Rom to learn more about this spectacular outdoor recreation destination and get an update on the threats facing the Wilderness and the path to permanent protection. Federal agencies are taking public comment through August 11 and considering a long-term ban on sulfide-ore copper mining in the watershed. Now is the time to learn more about the movement to protect the Boundary Waters.
